ROUTE MAP

01 Da Nang

Vietnam's most dynamic city is an easy one to like. Five-star resorts, golf courses, and heritage sites are sprinkled along the coast, around the Han River, and beneath the Hai Van Mountains.

02 Quy Nhon

Quy Nhon's charms are still under the radar, but its bays and beaches are firm favourites among local beach-goers. Book a resort on the sand and escape from the world for a few days.

03 Nha Trang

Nha Trang has strong roots in fishing and aquaculture, and this seaside paradise is heaven for holidaymakers, with attractive bars, luxurious resorts, and excellent water sports.

04 Phu Quoc

Vietnam's largest island has it all, from award-winning spas to Instagrammable bars, seafood feasts to scuba diving sites. Don't leave without exploring the gorgeous An Thoi Islands.

DAY BY DAY

D1 Da Nang

Arrive in Da Nang and unwind. Spend the afternoon at the pool or spa, then stroll along the Han River after dark and try the city's lively restaurant and bar scene.

D2 Da Nang

Visit the Marble Mountains in the morning, they are particularly stunning at sunrise, then catch the scenic coastal train south to Quy Nhon.

D3 Quy Nhon

Soak up the local fishing culture in Quy Nhon's quiet bays, relax on the sand or with a beachside massage, and enjoy some of Vietnam's freshest and most affordable seafood.

D4 Nha Trang

Take a four-hour ride south to sunny Nha Trang. Go sightseeing around the Cham towers and Po Nagar temple, take a mud bath at the mineral springs, and spend the afternoon beach-hopping along the coast.

D5 Nha Trang

A free day to enjoy Nha Trang at your own pace. Try water sports, join a snorkelling boat tour, or simply settle into a sunlounger and let the 300-plus days of annual sunshine do their work.

D6 Phu Quoc

Transfer via Ho Chi Minh City and fly on to Phu Quoc. Take a tour of the island's memorable pagodas, fish sauce factories, and bee farms, then end the day at a beautiful beach bar watching the sunset.

D7 Phu Quoc

Transfer via Ho Chi Minh City and fly on to Phu Quoc. Take a tour of the island's memorable pagodas, fish sauce factories, and bee farms, then end the day at a beautiful beach bar watching the sunset.
